APEX-Micro Announces Manufacturing Contract with Leading US Audio Broadcast OEM

Manufacturing Contract Announcement

Vancouver, BC, Canada, January 2004: APEX-Micro today announced a 5 Year, long-term

Manufacturing Agreement with a leading American Audio Broadcast equipment manufacturer, and a fixture in the communications industry. This new partner and OEM serves the communications market with leading professional audio processing equipment and exceptionally technical signal processing technology; servicing the current demand for audio and visual delay over the various communications mediums. Both APEX-Micro and their new partner are looking forward to a long lasting relationship and to moving into the future of advanced micro manufactured technology together.

This contract has been the culmination of much dedication on behalf of the involved talented engineers, and APEX-Micro's skilled team of professionals – both partners are thrilled to be teaming up with each other, and gearing towards audio products through a strong partnership.
